KEYNOTER HITS AT FORD BID

CAPACITY OF BRICK COMPANY'S PLANT WILL BE DOUBLED

Action By Directors To Be Put Into Effect Immediately

BIG DEMAND IN FUTURE IS SEEN

New Territory Will Be Reached By Local Brick Makers

Following action taken at a recent directors meeting of the Alabama Brick and Tile company, the capacity of the plant will be doubled at once. Last year most of the time three kilns were used in brick and tile manufacture, while in a few weeks this company will be operating eight kilns. Approximately a $40,000 business was done this past year, while for the present year an $80,000 business is expected. The product of the plant is sold ahead and the demands continue for the bricks, especially the face bricks, and the tiles. Because of the many drainage projects, the demand for drain tiles is very great.

Face Brick Trade Made Increase

The large demand for the face brick now being made by this company, it was stated at the director's meeting by General Manager W. B. Neher caused the demand for doubling the capacity of the plant. Territory hitherto unreached by this company because the demands for face bricks could not be met, will now be entered by the salesmen of the company, it was stated.

It was pointed out that enough machinery was now placed and available at the plant to furnish enough bricks and tiles to keep the dry kilns occupied. When running on brick alone the capacity of the plant monthly is about 400,000 brick and under the new arrangement the monthly output will be 800,000 brick.

Members of the board of directors attending the meeting were: W. B. Neher, J. T. Jacobs of Scottsboro, J. A. Williams of Scottsboro, A. D. Jervis, Charles H. Eyster, H. B. Beard, John A. Thomason, and George Cowan. A supply of "brick-dirt" for many years to come is in easy reach of the plant which is near the Tennessee river in Decatur.

JAMES E. WATSON

Senator Watson, of Indiana, is the choice of the Klan for Vice-president, a statement attributed to Imperial Wizard Evans said, but the Senator declared he was not a member of the organization and "repudiated" the statement. Imperial Wizard Evans also denied the statement.

GIRLS TEAM WILL PLAY TEAM HERE

"Can girls play winning base ball" will be decided here, at Malone park Thursday, June 19, stated W. W. Rahm, who in behalf of the Albany-Decatur concert band, today signed a contract with "The American Athletic Girls" of Chicago to appear here on the date named. The players will parade before the game which is to be called at 4 o'clock sharp Thursday afternoon. Mr. Rahm stated that by the time the game is opened a new grandstand will be in place at the park sufficient to seat comfortably, many hundreds of people. The hundreds of local friends of the band are all expected at the game and many from out of the cities.

The contract in behalf of the visiting team was signed as manager by Miss M. G. Dierl of Chicago, who went to Athens today. Miss Dierl is a first baseman and a center fielder, and said she learned to play base ball with her brothers and loved the game so, she has been playing it, for eight years.

The manager stated she seldom had an opportunity to play in the games staged by her company, but that she would make a desperate effort to return to the Twin Cities in time for the June 19 game.

"I know it has been objected that a woman's shoulders not being broad, that she has not the leverage for throwing a ball like a man; but I know of one girl on our team, who if she don't play as forcefully as any man and throw the ball as hard, I will return to your local band all our share of the gate receipts. We recently beat the crack team at Lebanon, Tenn. It is expected we will have hosts of women at the game to cheer us to victory, and I understand that in the chivalric South, we may expect the men also to cheer for us."

SEVERAL POINTS TO VOTE ON NEW TAX

The Morgan County board of revenue is expected to issue an order soon calling three mill school tax elections for early in July at Trinity, at Mount Zion and in the Penn District in the southern part of the county. Today, Professor E. L. Hayes, county superintendent of education, appeared before the board and acquainted its members with the wishes of the people in the school districts named regarding more public funds for education.

DIRECTORS TALK OVER PLANS FOR BUILDING BRIDGE

Interest Is High In The Project President Frost Reports

The Tennessee River Bridge Company's directors held a meeting Monday evening at the City National bank which was presided over by the President, C. E. Frost of Athens, W. B. Shackelford, cashier of the City National bank, secretary of the company kept the minutes of the meeting. Directors present in addition to Messrs. Frost and Shackelford were: Clyde Hendrix president of the Tennessee Valley Bank, Colonel Tennis Tidwell, A. Polytinsky and Lamar Penney.

Mr. Frost called attention to the nearness of the goal attained for financing the building of the proposed bridge at the time of the death of Major Grafton, who interested many citizens of the Valley in the project. At the time of which Mr. Frost spoke enough of the $500,000 needed for the enterprise had been pledged to begin work upon it.

The effort made by citizens of Decatur and of Albany of sometime ago working with Limestone County people, was referred to. At that time about $300,000 was promised for the bridge. It was explained at the meeting that, since none of the money subscribed in the past was ever used, all subscriptions of that time were of no effect.

Feasibility of Plans Discussed. The need and importance of having a wagon bridge here, was unanimously agreed to at the meeting, and discussion as to plans was entered into. The plan that received most favor at the meeting, was one in which individuals should build the bridge without waiting for the aid of state or counties of the national treasury. It was made plain that any financial assistance rendered from either or all such sources would be welcomed.

Speakers showed where all preliminary arrangements had been made as to permits for the proposed bridge and that all no necessary is "to get the money and get busy."

Swimming Party Plan of C. of C.

A great many farmers called at the offices of the Albany-Decatur chamber of commerce during the past week principally regarding matters relating to the agricultural development of Morgan County. Several of them talked of the New Malone Amusement park and the big swimming pool so that Secretary Meininger is making arrangements for a big party at the pool probably next Saturday, intention being to have several swimming contests and probably some diving. It was pointed out that this would be free admission at the door of the swimming pool and to the bleachers and further that the complimentary party was for the farmers.

Secretary Meininger announced that arrangements would be made for distribution of the tickets through a number of the business houses in Albany and Decatur, owing to the fact that time is too short to mail them out.

BROOKS HERE

General Manager T. E. Brooks of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, with a party, in his private car is here today making an inspection of the local shops of the company.

The car is in the shop yards. Mr. Brooks and his associates expect to leave for Louisville this evening.

YOUNG PEOPLE OF CITIES ORGANIZED

An organization called the "Inter-denominational church Worker's Union" was formed at the Y. M. C. A. last night, the object of the union being to promote greater cooperation among local church workers.

The meeting was attended by Oscar Morrow and others from the First Presbyterian church, Miss Ruth Banks and R. D. Edwards from the First Methodist church, Paul Dix, from the First Baptist church of Decatur, the Misses Turner from the Willoughby Presbyterian Church; Fred A. Bloodworth, Jr. from the Central Baptist church, Miss Ruth Chunn, Mrs. J. E. Blair and F. N. Purifoy from the Central Methodist church; Mrs. O. S. Thomas, Mrs. Sid Robertson and others from the Westside Presbyterian church; Misses May and Louise Tisdale, Westminster Presbyterian church, and others. It was decided to form a temporary organization and the following nominating committee suggested the following officers:

Misses Edith Bell, Ruth Chunn and F. N. Purifoy, the recommendation being approved by those present: Robert D. Edwards, president, Mrs. J. E. Blair, vice-president, Miss May Tisdale, secretary and Paul Dix, treasurer.

Malone Graduates At W. and L. Today

LEXINGTON, Va., June 10—Among the one hundred and fourteen young men who received their degrees as members of the Senior Class of 1924 of Washington and Lee University, here this morning was B. L. Malone of Albany, Alabama.

B. L. Malone entered Washington and Lee in the fall of 1920 and has taken a prominent part in collegiate activities since that time. He received the degree of Bachelor of Laws at the commencement exercises and presentation of degrees which was held in the historic Lee Chapel on the campus this morning. The commencement orator at today's exercises was the Hon. Lindsay Blayney at present connected with the Rice Institute, at Houston, Texas and well known throughout the South as a distinguished scholar, soldier, and internationalist, having been awarded the Croix de Guerre with palm and various other citations during the late world war.

B. L. Malone has taken interest in many college activities and made many friends during his stay at Washington and Lee.

BORAH DECLINES TO BECOME CANDIDATE

Chauncey Depew Away Along With Uncle Joe Cannon

LODGE RELEGATED TO PLACE IN REAR

Places of Power Are Taken By New Chiefs Of Convention

(Associated Press) CONVENTION HALL, Cleveland, O., June 10—Still searching for a vice presidential candidate, the republican national convention, went into its first session today with the question little advanced toward solution.

Booms passed for a moment in their flight, platform builders suspended their work and delegates ceased their milling, while all assembled in the great hall, with its 13,000 seats, to start the convention off on its way. Overnight the movement for Judge William S. Kenyon, of Iowa, showed new strength. The talk for Secretary Hoover grew stronger. The movement for Charles G. Dawes certainly lost no ground and the Lowden supporters renewed their stubborn resistance to former governor's reiterated determination not to accept the nomination if it were offered.

Many new faces appeared where old familiar faces have been in the memorable years gone by. For the first time in years Chauncey M. Depew was not on hand to enjoy a reception that has always resembled a new year's day hand-shaking bee at the white house. For the first time since a republican convention nominated Abraham Lincoln, "Uncle Joe" Cannon was absent.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge was not in the little circle of convention managers. The inconspicuous steering committee that has so much to say as to what will be done.

In their places of power today were a new set of men, chosen by President Coolidge, and headed by William M. Butler.

The doors of the great hall were thrown open to ticket holders at nine o'clock, but the delegates did not begin arriving until the clock moved toward eleven, the hour of meeting.

PLAN NEW DAMS ON TALLAPOOSA RIVER

(Associated Press) BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 10—Announcement of an expenditure of approximately $39,000,000 by the Alabama Power company on six hydro-electric projects on the Tallapoosa river was made by E. A. Yates, general manager. The developments will bring the stream to the maximum point in the production of power.

Construction work which includes what is known as the Cherokee Bluffs dam, will be completed within three years. A permit for the dams was granted by the federal power commission last week. Six dams with the upper and lower Tallapoosa projects now owned by the Alabama Power company will provide a total of 450,000 horsepower installation on the Tallapoosa.

Work has been in progress for a year on Cherokee Bluff, which is rated as one of the biggest power projects in the country. The 150 foot dam will back the Tallapoosa into a lake having an area of 39,200 acres.

Extra Session Not Needed At Present Is Coolidge's View

(Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 10—President Coolidge does not feel that an extra session of congress was made necessary by the failure of the senate to pass the deficiency appropriation bill.

The President directed government officials to take every step possible under the law to meet the emergency arising from the situation. He feels the secretary of the interior has power, under laws previously approved, to grant relief to settlers on reclamation projects unable to meet their payments, and has instructed Director Lord, of the budget, to do everything possible to put the bonus law into operation.

JAPANESE DOCTOR IS HELD BY POLICE

(Associated Press) NEW YORK, June 10—Dr. Akamu Terada, Japanese physician and explosive expert, whose apartment was raided last night by police, who said they found formulas and diagrams for making high explosives, today was being held in $1,500 bail on a charge of possessing a revolver, in violation of the Sullivan law, a state statute forbidding possession of concealed weapons.

Terada who said he was graduated from a medical college in Osaka, and studied at the John's Hopkins medical college, denied that the formulas and diagrams were for construction of bombs.

They had been written down in 1916 he said and has no relation whatever to the Japanese exclusion act.

He explained that since he was interested in explosives, he naturally engaged, at times, in making formulas.

TOKIO, June 10—More sordid motives than those of patriotism are backing the anti-American agitation, which has protested enactment in the United States of an immigration law, barring the Japanese, in the opinion of government officials and business men here. According to statements made by them today, the agitation is being supported by a certain Japanese men and manufacturers who desire to eliminate foreign competition in the Japanese market and who have seized on the situation created by passage of the exclusion provision as a means to that end.

PLEA FOR ELECTION OF REGULAR SOLONS BRINGS OUT CHEERS

Demonstration Breaks Into Speech While Wisconsin Silent

ROUTINE QUICKLY FINISHED TODAY

Mention Of Coolidge Is Received With Burst Of Real Applause

(Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 10—Senator Borah, of Idaho, sent instructions to Cleveland today that his name be withdrawn, if it were presented to the republican national convention as a vice presidential candidate. He urged former Senator William S. Kenyon, of Iowa, for the nomination as it was said he had recommended him at a conference with President Coolidge.

CONVENTION HALL, Cleveland, O., June 10—Coming to order promptly on schedule time, the convention devoted its first session to perfecting the temporary organization and hearing the keynote speech by Representative Theodore Burton, of Ohio, temporary chairman.

Chairman Adams, of the national committee, brought the gavel down promptly at eleven o'clock and routine organization work was disposed of quickly. Full delegations were on the floor and galleries were well filled but not crowded. The speech of the chairman which sounded the keynote of the coming campaign, was followed closely.

The first prolonged applause came when the chairman declared: "The republican party stands now, as always, for law enforcement."

The statement plainly was construed by the convention as referring to the enforcement of the prohibition laws.

Another burst of applause followed the chairman's reference to an anti-lynching law.

Mr. Burton drew more applause in his remarks concerning conservation of natural resources. He did not mention Muscle Shoals or Henry Ford by name, but he did say "no hundred year franchise should be given."

The delegates got the point, and applauded.

There was one burst when the chairman said it was to be regretted that the president was not given time to take up the matter of Japanese exclusion by diplomatic negotiations before the exclusion act was passed.

There was more prolonged applause and cheering when the chairman, referring to the recent congressional investigations at Washington, condemned in strong terms, character assassination, rumors mongers and the like.

Guilt, he said, should be punished and that it was important that the innocent should be protected.

He disclaimed any reflection of any investigator, seeking to expose a crime in good faith. His declaration that the republican party stood firm "as a rock" for punishment of the guilty regardless of party, brought more applause.

There were more cheers for the chairman's declaration for party solidarity and his call for a republican congress, made up of members tried and true, who will stand united.

That brought out the first real demonstration of the session. Delegates rose to their feet, cheering and waving hats and handkerchiefs. Many of them turned to the Wisconsin delegation, where the LaFollette delegates remained silent, without taking part in the demonstration. There were cries of "stand up Wisconsin" and one del-

FRENCH MINISTRY OVERTHROWN TODAY

(Associated Press) PARIS, June 10—The French senate today, by a vote of 154 to 144, overthrew the ministry of message of Frederic Marsal. The senate overthrew the short lived ministry by voting down the demand of former minister of agriculture Henry Sheron, spokesman for Marshal for an interpellation on the presidential crisis.

Passenger Agent Visits Here Today

J. H. Settle of Birmingham, district passenger agent of the Louisville and Nashville railroad was here today on business. He stated he would be in the Twin Cities again on the special train of his company runs from Montgomery and points further south to New York city on account of the national democratic convention. He said unless Governor Brandon went, early to the big meet, Mr. Brandon would be one of his passengers on the special, and that former Governors Thomas E. Kilby and Charles Henderson would be on the special. Mr. Settle stated that numbers of Alabama newspaper men would also be on his train, the number including Colonel William T. Sheehan, and Atticus Milhins of Montgomery and Victor H. Hanson of Birmingham. Others named by Mr. Settle were Colonel George W. Jones of Montgomery and W. T. Saunders of Athens. Mr. Saunders is one of the Eighth district delegates to the New York convention.

A DAILY PRAYER—We pray Thee to plead against our pride, break up our rebellion, cure our delusions, and bring light to us in our darkness.

The hymn "December's as pleasant as June" does not apply regarding action on the Ford bid.

Christmas is liable to be forgotten, in view of what is promised for December 3rd and numbers of subsequent days.

That a "coma state" exists in Alabama, as Dr. J. S. Thomas intimated in a recent speech here, regarding educational progress may be doubted by some, but certainly our solons and others have failed to take into account the increasing demands for higher education among the young people. With the coming of compulsory education large numbers have been added to the schools and this increase demands more money for carrying on the schools. But the big increase in school expense, stated E. A. Henry of the office of the state superintendent of education who was here recently, came about because such large numbers of the students of the public schools decided to complete the high school courses and then go to college. Mr. Henry explained that while it took only 15 or 20 dollars a year to keep students in lower grades, that as they went higher and higher the cost of education became greater and greater. More money is needed to increase the length of the school terms as well as to build more school houses. Just now there is not such a demand for school houses, as longer school terms, Alabama now owning about 3000 good new school houses, compared to a very smaller number a few years ago.

Dr. Thomas' statement as to amounts spent in Alabama for education as compared to other states shows conclusively that this state must get busy and spend more money for education if it hopes to keep pace with neighboring states. Dr. Thomas said that whereas Alabama was spending only 55 cents a year per capita for education, Mississippi was spending 99 cents, Louisiana over $2.00, North Carolina $2.65 and Nevada about $3.00.

In a letter of some length addressed to one of his supporters here, Senator J. Thomas Heflin writing from his office in Washington expressed the belief that the Ford offer for Muscle Shoals "will finally be successful." Senator Heflin wrote on the eve of the adjournment of Congress, and in speaking of the hurry and rush at that time, declared he believed that the decision of the Ford supporters to allow the postponement of a vote until December was a wise one. Senator Heflin said that to undertake to force a vote would have meant a filibuster tending to embarrass men regarded as friendly to the Ford bid. Mr. Heflin stated that he hoped to be able to visit some sections of the state during the summer and fall. He referred to the actions of Senator George Norris, apropos of his previous action in sealing with a kiss a bargain for support for the Ford offer many months ago, while the distinguished Nebraskan was a guest of friends near the Tri-Cities, remarking in conclusion: "He should have felt complimented instead of raising such a fuss."

Two paragraphs of Senator Heflin's letter having directed references to Muscle Shoals were as follows: "The hearings were closed on Monday last and both majority and minority reports made to the Senate for consideration. There were powerful forces and influences brought to keep the Ford offer from being accepted. Every effort possible was made to secure a vote on the Ford offer but it was impossible to draw sufficient strength to carry through our plans for forcing a vote on the issue before Congress adjourns. The Ford advocates thought best and entered an agreement with those opposing to take it up in December and succeeded in obtaining unanimous consent to make the question the unfinished business on Wednesday December 3."

"To try to force a vote would be met with a filibuster and with no hopes of success and would tie up legislation that would greatly affect the country at large and embarrass some Senators who are inclined to support the Ford offer. I believe that the action taken by the Ford supporters was the best course to pursue and that in the end will work to our good. I made a long and hard fight for the acceptance of the Ford offer and have great hopes, ultimately in the acceptance of it, and believe our efforts will finally be successful."

The Times yesterday reprinted an editorial from the Omaha, Nebraska, World-Herald, in which the opening sentences are—"It is just as we feared. Senator Norris has gone and given the state a bad name," referring to his cowardly action at the time of the testimony of Mrs. Edmundson before the senate committee. But this is not the only offense for which Senator Norris must answer to his people at the election this fall. Norris has not only repudiated his own people, the farmers of Nebraska, in fighting as the tool of the big interests against the Ford offer for Muscle Shoals, which would have afforded cheaper fertilizer and other commodities, but he has also repudiated his own party, the republican, after having been nominated for the senate on its ticket without opposition. In speaking of this act of the ignoble senator, the New York Times has the following to say:

"On April 8 Senator Norris of Nebraska was a candidate for re-election in the Republican primary and was nominated. He is not a republican. He is a LaFollettian nondescript, a constant opponent of the republican administration. On May 8, a month after he had used the party name to his own advantage, he made public his zeal for non-partisanship. He wanted 'the party circle' stricken from the ballot, so that, even with the wickedest intention, nobody could commit the crime of voting a straight ticket. He 'would elect every officer in the state on a non-partisan ticket, and would be perfectly willing to have that same rule applied to candidates for congress.' He refused to campaign for the state ticket.

"Some narrow-minded Nebraska republicans objected to his belated declaration of independence. What right had Mr. Norris to a republican nomination, if he wouldn't support the republican ticket? 'Take his name off the ticket,' said these hide-bound partisans. They went to work to do it. There was a legal opinion to the effect that his nomination was void because he had openly proclaimed his disloyalty to the republican party. The senator's high virtue was soon tempered with prudence. He joined his colleague, Mr. Howell, in approving the republican state ticket. But republicans poisoned with what he calls 'party virus' kept on growling. Now he has had another attack, not very severe, of non-partisan virtue. He believes in the recall. Let the chairman of the Nebraska republican state committee call a statewide primary. If the majority decides to recall his nomination, he offers to resign, provided every congressional and state candidate, and very member of the state committee who has asked for his recall will pledge himself to resign in case the senator is not recalled.

"Mr. Norris' conditions are distinctly humorous, though he is one of the last men from whom humor would be expected. The effort to take his name off the ballot continues. The question ought to be settled in the courts; and Mr. Norris says he is willing it should be. Whether his name stays on the ballot or not, it has no business there. Every vote he gets as a republican candidate is a vote obtained by false pretenses. The disintegration of parties is one of the gravest troubles of the United States. Mr. Norris strives to make a deplorable situation worse. The best thing that Nebraska could do would be to elect a 'straight' democratic senator. That is probably impossible. If the republicans trying to beat Norris fail, they will at least have done what they could for the restoration of party responsibility and responsible government by means of parties. The Nebraska state republican committee has very properly declined to accept the Norris offer—The Florence Times.

Farmer Pays $61 For A Tombstone

An incident which occurred several years ago in Texas comes to my mind rather vividly this morning when I recall what a good farmer of Morgan county told me Saturday about a case of sickness in his family which might have been serious. This was due to the fact that the muddy condition of the road delayed a physician in reaching his home to treat the daughter.

The story from East Texas is one which happened at the time of several big meetings in connection with a road bond issue. There were a good many anti-bond men in that section who claimed that they had already enough of taxes shouldered on them. One man in particular was loud against the proponents of the issue. He jumped up in the meeting and fairly yelled "Brother Nix, you'd be heavily taxed and the road wouldn't be within a half of a mile of your place." Then, this same chap thinking that he had the world by the horns, said in an undertone, to a good old farmer seated next to him: "Nix is hot against paying extra taxes and just watch him burn that city talker off the irons."

So Brother Nix did get up and in a few words, to the astonishment of the large audience, told them that just before Christmas his little boy took sick, and that he had reached the doctor by telephone who said he would be right out. Seven hours after telephoning, the doctor reached the home of farmer Nix. It was too late, the little boy was dead—the little tot had choked to death with diphtheria. The bogs and the mud holes were the cause of the doctor traveling but six miles in seven hours. Bad roads, no roads at all!

With tears in his eyes farmer Nix told them "the last time you tried to fix these roads I voted against the bond issue, my tax would have been sixty-one dollars a year but by Heavens I'd have my son. I saved the money and bought a tombstone, whilst the roads are just as bad as they ever were. Even if I am a little off the main road I'll help build to it because I still have two sons and a daughter."

My friends, ask the good doctors in Morgan and in adjoining counties—get them to tell you of the hardships in getting to the country at the time of sick calls. Go to the farm where those good people have suffered, often times suffered in pain and agony from one day to the next, because the mud was so deep that the physician could not negotiate the road. We are to blame for a condition of this sort. It must be remedied and therefore let us, as friends, one with the other, seek the ways and the means for remodeling this terrible condition.

To admit that we are in favor of "Good Roads" and then not to strive diligently to get them is not worthy of an enlightened and progressive people, such as the real people who actually compose this district it is a shame to think that there is even a small amount of suffering permitted in the country because of bad roads and a crime that serious illness cannot always be given prompt attention because of lack of transportation.

We must, by the very nature of things realize its seriousness and it is shame to advocate good roads and then be unwilling to see and to do that which is necessary to obtain them.

Plea For Election Of Regular Solons Brings Out Cheers

The first mention of President Coolidge's name brought out a new demonstration which approached the fervor of the previous one. Speaker Gillette, of Mass., sprang to his feet and Senator Lodge rose beside him.

The demonstration subsided in a moment but was renewed when the chairman declared the people have confidence in Calvin Coolidge and his further statement that "others" may have lost their nerve, Calvin Coolidge has not lost his."

When the chairman, speaking of the league of nations, declared "It is not for us," there was another outburst of applause and more applause when he said he judged the sentiment of the American people was against cancellation of the foreign debt.

Reviewing the reparations tangle and efforts to settle it, the chairman mentioned twice the name of Charles G. Dawes and paused once to give the Dawes boomers a chance to demonstrate a little for their vice presidential candidate. Either the Dawes men missed the point or they were not ready, because the name of Dawes passed over without applause or demonstration.

Chairman Burton finished just after one o'clock, having spoken an hour and a half and the convention responded with a demonstration of applause and prolonged cheers to his prediction of party victory in November.

The applause over Chairman Burton took up the further business of perfecting the temporary organization. Chairman Adams, of the national committee, introduced Secretary Lasc

Illinois May Have Blind Justice.

PAUL FARTHING, ATTORNEY

Justice may be blind, but blind justices are rarely seen except in statues and paintings. However, Illinois may soon have a blind justice of the Supreme Court in Paul Farthing, of East St. Louis, Ill., President of the Bar Association of that city and a prominent attorney, whose candidacy is said to assure his election. Although blind since birth, he graduated from law school with highest honors and has won fame as an attorney.

After listening to Mr. Burton's keynote speech, which occupied an hour and a half, the convention adjourned for the day.

Tomorrow's session will bring the election of the permanent chairman, former Congressman Mondell of Wyoming, and the delivery of his address.

Meanwhile platform builders and vice president makers will continue busy.

What the Press Agents Say

William Russell, who appears in one of the leading roles of Thomas H. Ince's "Anna Christie" at the Princess theater, made his early appearance on the stage with Chauncey Olcott, as did Blanche Sweet, who plays the title role in the same production. It is coincident, also, that Russell and Miss Sweet both began their screen careers at the old Biograph studio. In "Anna Christie" Miss Sweet will bring to the screen a fine dramatic characterization of the little Swedish wail that Pauline Lord created so successfully on the New York and London stages. Mr. Russell is admirably cast in the supporting role of the young Irish lover. "Anna Christie" is a First National release.

Out of The Gloom

Many a gloomy countenance in Albany now lightens with happiness. A bad back makes you gloomy.

Can't be happy with continual backache.

The aches and pains of a bad back are frequently due to weak kidneys.

Ask your neighbor.

So Albany citizens testify.

Mrs. H. Zinsmeister, Tenth Ave., W., Albany, says: "My kidneys were retarded in action and my back pained at night. Shooting pains took me across my hips and I could hardly turn. The joints of my fingers became swollen and ached. After using Doan's Pills from the Preuit-Dillehay Drug Co., the trouble left." (Statement given February 27, 1918.)

On February 7, 1922, Mrs. Zinsmeister said: "I have used Doan's since. They were just as reliable as before."

COMMUNITY WORK.

BEING CARRIED FORWARD.

No city can develop into that which is highest and best without the cooperation of every man and woman in the whole community into Christian living.

The Twin Cities are not unlike other cities and all that is needed to make them ideal is cooperative work to that end. Wide awake in this as in other things a community board has been established by the federated missionary societies of all denominations in the two cities. There are seventeen churches in the federation representing five denominations. The board is made up of a representative from each denomination with a personnel as follows.

Director, Mrs. D. D. McGehee, Mrs. W. H. Simpson, Baptist, Mrs. J. D. Jervis, Presbyterian, Mrs. J. T. Jones, Methodist, Mrs. Fran' Gray, Christian Mrs. Thomas Hodson Episcopal, Mrs. A. T. Hanson, president of federation, Mrs. J. T. Jones, secretary, Mrs. Thomas Hodson, treasurer.

The board is establishing a community center in Albany and Decatur. A center where boys and girls, men and women may come for pleasure and profit, where they may grow into Christian citizenship and develop a community pride.

The cooperation of every man and woman in the Twin Cities is asked that all may work together to make this development a success, cities where community life is pure and wholesome.

Substantial backing has already been given by the Kiwanis club, which the board is investing in two houses for the work.

These houses will need to be fitted up. Some have already expressed a desire to help in this and believing others may wish to have a part in it, a list of needed articles will be given later through the press.

Nothing succeeds so well as when directed by one of experience and it is the desire of the board to secure the help of one trained for such work.

An experienced woman is now being communicated with and it is hoped she will soon be here to begin this splendid undertaking. Any individual or organization wishing to have a part in this good work will kindly communicate with the director or any member of the board, their help will be appreciated.

Miss Jessie House of Huntsville is the house guest of Mrs. J. E. Blair.

New York Letter

NEW YORK, June 10—War memorials of many kinds have been erected all over the country, several here in this city. But it seems to me that our "Eternal Light" is going to be about as proud and fitting as any we have heard about. A solitary old-fashioned electric star set a top a tall staff in Madison Square and intended to shine forever as a tribute to New York soldiers who died in the World War has been donated by Rodman Wanamaker and dedicated with fitting ceremonies.

The younger generation has its difficulties in these days when its influence is beginning to be felt so vigorously by its parents. Mrs. Irene Starbuck has a youngish mother, Mrs. Arnold Innocence by name, and young Mrs. Starbuck has her own ideas as to how far mothers, especially with the name of Innocence to live up to, should go in following the traffic course laid out by sons and daughters. So the other day when she met her mother, and discovered that her lovely brown tresses had not only turned to gold but had been bobbed as well, she lost all patience and spoke out so harshly that a fistic embroilment ensued. Both were taken before the Magistrate, who gave the daughter a suspended sentence and added to the mother's grief by expressing deep sympathy for the burdens of the young generation.

Balloons have been put to new use. When a yacht went down at its moorings just off Manhattan Island, an engineering concern attached three balloons to its hull by means of diving, then inflated them and the wreck rose buoyantly to the surface.

Three more "old masters" are coming to New York, having been purchased in Paris by Americans. They are Franz Hals' "Portrait of a Woman," "A Farm in Sunshine," by Meyndert Hobbema and "Portrait of a Young Lady" by Domenico Ghirlandajo. The three pictures are valued at around $450,000, if the purchase prices are fair indications of value.

It was fortunate, perhaps, that the young man and woman who went forth into the New Jersey woods to prove that they could live in the wilds without any help from markets, truck gardens and other artificialities of civilization, failed to accomplish the particular ambition of the young woman, Miss Helen Cole. Miss Cole had insisted that she was independent of all aid in the way of food because she could catch rabbits with her bare hands. At the top of the excitement over their disappearance, when state troopers and worried friends were combing the New Jersey woods, they were surprised to find that the state game keeper was taking part in the hunt. He explained his interest in a way that reflected high on his sense of duty. "Rabbits are out of season," he said, "and if she has caught one, I'm going to arrest her."

Chaliapin, beloved singer of our Metropolitan Opera Company, is reported as telling Paris, where he is spending his vacation, that shortly our congress will discuss open on the floor of its hall.

SHERIFF'S SALE

By virtue of execution fieri facias issued out of the clerk's office of the Circuit Court of Morgan County and state of Alabama, and to me directed, whereby I am commanded to make the amount of a certain judgment recently obtained against S. E. Ory out of the goods, chattels, lands and tenements of the said S. E. Ory, I have levied on the following property, to-wit:

2160 yards gingham, 195 yards domestic, 100 yards ratine, 60 yards ratine, 4 yards red flannel, 36 yards white flannel, 20 yards sateen, 11 yards lynett, 15 yards voile, 86 yards cotton checks, 40 yards gingham, 195 yards sheeting, 30 yards table linen, 89 yards sheeting, 137 yards sheeting, 184 yards outing, 45 yards duck, 15 yards feather duck, 22 yards straw tick, 4 dozen men's union suits, 1-2 dozen hose.

Therefore, according to said command, I shall expose for sale, at Public auction, at the right title and interest of the above named S. E. Ory in and to the above described property, on Monday, the 23rd day of June, 1924, during the legal hours of sale, at the store of S. E. Ory on Second avenue, Albany, Ala.

Will Direct Issuance of Government Bonus.

MAJOR O. W. CLARK

Major O. W. Clark, former Chief of the Rehabilitation Bureau of the Veterans' Bureau, has been appointed by Brig. Gen. Frank Hines as head of the new division that will direct the issuance of the adjusted compensation certificates under the provisions of the soldier bonus bill.

Counting by Tens.
Our system of counting by tens started ages ago when men counted on their fingers. Because they had ten fingers, a numbering on their hands made a unit of counting, and that was the beginning of the decimal system. A count on their fingers and toes resulted in twenty and thus the checking off of things by scores began.

The White Wessel.
The ermine or white wessel, is the smallest of the fur-bearers found in North America. The finest ermine fur comes from Russia and Siberia. In winter the animal is snow white except for a black tip on the end of the tail. In summer it turns brown and the brown fur is, for this reason, known on the market as "summer ermine."

Value of Mastication.
A good way to form the habit of thorough mastication is to begin each meal with a small quantity of very dry food. In most cases mastication is a help to digestion. The only circumstances under which it is not advisable to prolong the mastication is when there is an excess of the digestive acids in the stomach or where there is pain after eating solid foods.

Just About.
Using mud stones to prevent hydrophobia from mad dog bites is just as sensible and effective as carrying a rabbit's foot for luck or a buckeye to prevent rheumatism.

Where Bats Thrive.
Bats are absent from the colder parts of the world and are most numerous in the eastern tropics. They are characteristically tropical. In rather cold climates, such as that of Canada, some species have acquired a habit of migration, going south to some extent in the autumn, as the northern winters are too long to be survived in a state of uninterrupted hibernation.

Must Be Trained.
Unless a man has trained himself for his chance, the chance will only make him ridiculous. A great occasion is worth to a man exactly what his antecedents have enabled him to make of it.

Constipation makes bright children dull—
• give them relief with Kellogg's Bran

Constipation dulls the youthful mind—makes children backward in their studies—makes them listless—and can lead to serious diseases. Constipation is a dangerous disease.

You cannot afford to take chances in getting relief. You cannot afford to experiment or put off. Kellogg's Bran brings relief—permanent relief if eaten regularly. Even in the most chronic cases of constipation it is guaranteed to bring results. If it fails, your grocer will return your money.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and branched, has brought relief to thousands because it is ALL bran. Remember, only ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. That is why Kellogg's Bran is recommended by doctors. It sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It causes regular, healthy, normal action. For it works as nature works. It is ALL bran.

Have your children eat it regularly—two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the wonderful recipes on every package.

The flavor is delicious—a crisp, nut-like flavor that delights the taste. Different by far from ordinary bran, which is unpalatable.

Begin serving Kellogg's Bran, cooked and branched, to your children today. Eat it yourself. The leading hotels and clubs serve it. Made in Battle Creek. It is sold by all grocers.

Why Are Drugs Standardized?

They are standardized in order to bring about uniform therapeutic efficiency to the patient whenever required. This efficiency is most needed in the sick room—not merely in the laboratory.

What is true of drugs must be true of foods. Purity and efficiency in the can is only part of the problem—purity and efficiency in the kitchen is the true test.

The law requires that baking powder contain 12% leavening gas at the time of sale to the consumer. This measure insures uniform leavening efficiency and protects the health of the public.

In order to comply with this fixed standard for baking powder, manufacturers must produce and pack their product so as to avoid the deterioration which may result from absorption of atmospheric moisture.

Baking Powder manufacturers to avoid violation of the law, also spend thousands of dollars yearly in testing grocers' stocks and removing "spent" goods from their shelves, in spite of the fact that every possible precaution had previously been taken against deterioration.

With the exception of Texas, the pure food laws are not applied to baking powder mixed with flour at the mill and sold in bags as "Self Rising Flour." There is no penalty on the manufacturers if this fails to "self rise"—the consumer is the "goat"—he is the one that pays the penalty through indigestion and ill health that comes from eating bakings that are not properly raised. The standardization of baking powder is a protection to both the consumer and the manufacturer—who welcomes such laws and co-operates in every way possible. But!

Not so with the self rising flour manufacturer—he resents such laws and fights such legislation. Why? Because a standardization of self rising flour would require moisture-proof containers instead of cheap sacks—because low grade "clears" could no longer be sold as "fancy patent flour." It would also mean he must maintain expert chemical control such as is now maintained by baking powder manufacturers.

Calumet Baking Powder contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by the U. S. Food Authorities.
